Namaste’ is a way to say hello or goodbye in India. Many languages are spoken there. I actually speak three languages: Marathi, Hindi, and English.

The first language I learned is Marathi, and I usually speak it with my family at home.

My second language is Hindi. 'Jungle' and 'Curry' are from Hindi. Hindi is often used at school.

I speak English, too. English is used across the country because India was once ruled by the British.
Now, let’s do free talk and talk about yourself.

Ask your tutor a question. Please listen to his or her answer.

After that, your tutor will ask you the same question.

Then, please answer that question.

Example Questions:

1. Is your room cleaned everyday?

2. Is English spoken in your country?

3. Are your parents from the same town?

4. Are students taught different languages in your country?

5. Are books often read by teenagers in your school?
